

Faker prayer chart

You may want to write or draw your prayers. This chart will help you do this. The six pics on the right are easy to remember and draw, as you take each part of Jesus' prayer and pray it through for yourself. You can also download this from www.thegoodbook.com/faker

1. Father	Remind yourself of your position before God. You are his adopted child, and he is listening, like a loving Father, to everything you say.
2. Hallowed be your name	Think of how the Bible passage you're reading tells you about God's character. Tell God how awed you are at who he is.
3. Your kingdom come	Reflect on what the passage you're reading tells you about what God wants. How does he want us to live as those who belong to his kingdom?
4. Give us each day our daily bread	How does the Bible passage you're reading calm your anxieties? How does it demonstrate that God will provide for all your needs, especially through Jesus?
5. Forgive us our sins	Think of ways in which you've failed to respond to God's character, live as a member of his kingdom, and trust in his provision throughout the day. Bring those confessions to Jesus, and take time to remember—you've been forgiven and justified, because of him.
6. Lead us not into temptation	Pray that today, you can put God's priorities and his kingdom first, especially in places where you've failed. Pray the same prayer for your family, and friends. Pray for anyone else who comes to mind.

Faker prayer chart

You may want to write or draw your prayers. This chart will help you do this. The six pics on the right are easy to remember and draw, as you take each part of Jesus' prayer and pray it through for yourself. You can also download this from www.thegoodbook.com/faker

1. Father	Remind yourself of your position before God. You are his adopted child, and he is listening, like a loving Father, to everything you say.
2. Hallowed be your name	Think of how the Bible passage you're reading tells you about God's character. Tell God how awed you are at who he is.
3. Your kingdom come	Reflect on what the passage you're reading tells you about what God wants. How does he want us to live as those who belong to his kingdom?
4. Give us each day our daily bread	How does the Bible passage you're reading calm your anxieties? How does it demonstrate that God will provide for all your needs, especially through Jesus?
5. Forgive us our sins	Think of ways in which you've failed to respond to God's character, live as a member of his kingdom, and trust in his provision throughout the day. Bring those confessions to Jesus, and take time to remember—you've been forgiven and justified, because of him.
6. Lead us not into temptation	Pray that today, you can put God's priorities and his kingdom first, especially in places where you've failed. Pray the same prayer for your family, and friends. Pray for anyone else who comes to mind.	